

ABOUT US

Even though our establishment dates to just 2013, there is a long history lying back of this company.

It was on a day in the 1980's when my father was walking on the Black Sea Mountains of Northern Turkey, checking for different mining opportunities, when he noticed a naturally self-polished white raw rock. This was the start of our business.

Over the past twenty years, in the light of our previous experience, we have explored Turkey's rich mineral deposits in search of quality marble, travertine and other natural stones which have been used in building projects throughout Turkey and around the world.

Today the company operates with several quarries throughout Turkey and offers a wide range of distinctive colours in a variety of different stones.

The company operates with some of the best and most advanced factories that have advanced stone cutting facilities in Turkey. They have the ability to supply large scale projects locally, regionally and internationally.
